THIRTY-EIGHTH YEAR NO. 15.

CEDARVILLE, OHIO, FRIDAY, APRIL 9, 1915

PRICE, $1.00 A YEAR

SOME INFORMATION CONCERNING THE BOND ISSUE.

Various Reasons Why Cedarville
Township SHOULD TAKE Advanced Steps in Educational Lines and Raise the Grade of the School.

There are a number of reasons why the voters of the Cedarville School District should endorse the $75,000 bond issue for a new building at the special election Thursday, April 15.

Ohio is taking advanced steps in educational matters and on every hand, in the rural school, town, and city schools and colleges, the standard of education is being raised and the work of education systematized. Many towns and townships have voted bond issues for improved schools in order that the graduates may enter colleges on their diplomas from first grade schools. The Board of Education after inspecting other modern schools readily sees the difference between the methods employed here and elsewhere. To adopt the modern ideas is impossible in a structure built more than fifty years ago and only for the needs of that time.

To enable our pupils to enter other schools on an equal this step is mandatory and the voters on next Thursday are asked not to furnish advantages over pupils in other districts but to make it possible for home pupils to be pleased on an equal.

A more modern school can be administered more economically. Better ventilation and sanitary arrangements. Larger classes will be possible with more careful supervision. The influence of such classes results in enthusiasm and generous rivalry. A broader companionship comes from such association.

The Herald had hoped to have a half-tone illustration of the proposed building for this issue but the plans at this time would not permit such until after publication date. However we will give a description of the structure so that you can have a good idea of what the board has provided.

The basement will provide for two rooms for domestic science, two rooms for manual training and a gymnasium seating 250 persons. Also a modern heating plant will be installed.

The first floor will comprise six class rooms; a hospital room and a teacher's room. The auditorium will also be on this floor and seat about 450. This room will be used for public entertainments and chapel services.

The second floor will consist of two class rooms, a large laboratory, two recitation rooms, a high school room, library and office. Toilets will be provided for the upstairs rooms.

The entire building will be equipped with the most modern sanitary sewerage and plumbing fixtures and placed to conform to the state law.

The building as proposed will be strictly modern and one of which every citizen of the district should be proud. The school children will be provided with the same modern facilities as found in the schools in larger cities. When the advantages are considered the cost is a mere trifle and the bonds will be arranged so that those who receive the benefits will be called upon to pay their share.

Previous to the election folders will be placed in the hands of the voters of the Cedarville Rural School District giving illustrations and description of the new edifice. It might be well to state that the present school district does not include all of the township and only residents of the district will be able to cast a vote under the law.

It is to be hoped that a full vote be recorded. We have been careful in sounding public sentiment and state without hesitancy that the issue will be approved. To show our interest in the most important question that concerns the people, our schools, let the majority be decisive.

MRS. J. C. STORMONT
CALLED TO HER REWARD.

Mrs. Margaret Ann Stormont, wife of Mr. J. C. Stormont, was called to her reward Saturday, about 1:30, following an illness of only a few hours. Mrs. Stormont, about eleven years ago, suffered a stroke of paralysis and has been an invalid ever since. For some time back she had almost been deprived of her eyesight, yet these afflictions were borne with patience.

The deceased was a daughter of James K. and Marietta Street Morrow and was born August 27, 1835, near this place. Part of her early life was spent in Indiana but she later returned here and made her home with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. John Reid, in the same house she has occupied since her marriage to Mr. Stormont on September 5, 1860.

In early life she united with the Associate Church and afterwards transferred her membership to the Reformed Presbyterian church where, for many years, her Christian influence was impressed on those about her.

Besides the husband, four children survive: James Albert, of Saticum, Colorado; Mrs. William Lackey, of near Jamestown; John and Ada at home. A sister, Miss Morrow, also survives.

The Ross Township School board has selected Edward J. Mount-Stevens, of Dayton, to prepare plans for the new centralized school.

The building will resemble the Catholic building in Xenia and it will be erected on a site opposite the township house.

Mr. John Bryan, who announced a Public Sale at his farm near Yellow Springs, Greene County, Ohio, in April, has decided a Public Sale will bring too many human riffraff to his farm. He will have a Private Sale, beginning Saturday, morning, April 10th, continuing daily, early and late, until Saturday evening, April 17th. Mr. Bryan himself and others will be there every day to show things and receive bids. Credit will be given with approved security. As he raises only Alfalfa all other superior implements will go at great discounts. Out of 20 horses only 3 draft teams and 2 roadsters will be kept. Two young Jacks will go and hundreds of tons of Alfalfa hay.

MAYOR WOLFORD RESIGNS, DUE TO ILL HEALTH

E. McFarland Becomes Chief Executive and W. H. Barber Is Chosen Vice Mayor.

An unusual amount of business was transacted by council, Monday evening. The most important announcement was the resignation of Mayor Wolford, who retires owing to declining health. In this connection it might also be stated that he has retired from business activity and will spend the summer in an endeavor to regain his health. The retiring executive has served four terms as mayor and a year following the death of L. G. Bull. Mr. E. McFarland, who has been vice mayor, has filed his bond and been sworn in.

Owing to the resignation of Walter Wolford as mayor, Mr. H. A. McLean has been appointed to fill the vacancy also that of street commissioner and has qualified. Mr. E. G. Lowry was chosen to fill the vacancy in council. Bills were allowed to the amount of $338.74. The mayor's receipts amounted to $49.70.

An ordinance was presented by Mr. D. S. Ervin asking for the vacation of an alley that leads from Xenia avenue to the railroad along Mr. Ervin's quarry. Mr. Ervin agrees to build a road on the line next to Mr. P. O. Harbison. The ordinance was given the first reading.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for the street paving and bids will be opened on April 13. The streets will be cleaned and some repairs made, as far as the finances will permit. Council will also undertake the construction of a new cistern for the northwest part of town. Mayor McFarland informed council that his term of office will be short, only for the balance of the year. His business will be conducted strictly on a cash basis for he proposes to do away with bookkeeping. Officers must settle in cash and on the spot or it's a trip to "Crowley."

MASONIC ENTERTAIN.

Thursday evening, April 1st, marked the beginning of a new custom in the circles of Cedarville Masonry. Some time ago it was seen to be advisable to add a few social features to the local associations of the Fraternity. As a result of this that a social meeting for Masons was held in the Lodge rooms some few weeks ago and so very successful was this and so enjoyable the occasion that it was resolved to go to greater pains and expense and announce a banquet for the members and friends of the lodge. A special feature of this was to be the invitation extended to the wives and sweethearts of the Masonic gentlemen.

The results were most satisfactory. The committee on arrangements were told to go the "full limit" so far as expense and preparations were concerned. The ladies of the Methodist church were given the essentials for the banquet, together with instructions as to the preparation of the same. This was carried out to the letter and everything was carefully prepared and deftly served. Each plate was a beautiful Easter dinner. This was a most happy thought and added greatly to the spirit of the occasion. For Masonry is intensely a religion and makes much of the various institutions of Christianity. For centuries Easter has been one of the calendar days of the lodge and a result of this the food and the flowers were both very opportune. Ample preparations for the banquet had been made and every person was abundantly served.

After the supper Brother D. B. McElwain, W. M., acting toastmaster, with very appropriate words gave an address of welcome to those present and then called upon various members for remarks. Those responding were: Rev. J. W. Patton, Mr. John Randall, Prof. Fortney and Mr. Chas. Gilbert, of South Charleston. Mr. Gilbert was the first Master of the lodge acting as such while the Lodge was waiting for its Charter. One of the very appropriate addresses of the evening was that of Mrs. Fortney who at one time was District Lecturer of the Woman's division of Masonry, The Eastern Star.

Very great regret was expressed on account of the absence of Mayor Wolford who is an honored member of the local lodge and a Mason of many years standing.

At a late hour and after a most enjoyable evening the members of the lodge, together with their friends and guests, departed to their homes, having a very warm place in their hearts for a Fraternity that makes people so such a splendid social occasion.

A crowded house and a well pleased audience turned out last Friday evening to the third annual high school concert. The program numbers were very pleasing, especially the girls sextette and the boys glee club. The Springfield Fairbanks orchestra furnished the music. Miss Dorothy McClellan recited two humorous selections from the pen of her uncle, Mr. W. D. Nesbit, of Chicago. Miss Edith Hamman also gave a very interesting reading. The second part of the entertainment was a cantata, "The Wreck of the Herpesus" and the large audience voiced its approval in applause. The entertainment was given under the direction of the music supervisor, Mr. G. F. Siegler.

The grand jury was called in session Monday and two indictments were returned. One against Alfred Alexander for assault with intent to kill and rob Joseph Piper in Xenia and one against Wiley Stevens for carrying concealed weapons. Clarence Routzong, who killed Louis Rogge in a fight at Fairfield, Saturday, was not presented. The Coroner and Prosecutor held that Routzong was justified in killing Rogge as he did so in self defense. Rogge recently moved onto the farm without permission and was later ejected legally. He has since annoyed Routzong, coming at him, Saturday, with a hammer. A fence board was the means of defense and Rogge's skull was fractured by a blow.

THE SCHOOL BOND ISSUE.

The most important topic that has been before the citizens of this school district in many years is the question of a new building and the bond issue the board has asked the patrons to endorse at a special election on Thursday, April 15. The greatest duty that rests upon the public is providing adequate facilities for the education of the present generation that must carry the responsibilities of the future. We provide money directly from taxation and through the sale of bonds for good roads, streets, opera houses, court houses, jails and workhouses and certainly we should provide for the education of our boys and girls. Cedarville township is recognized as an educational center, due largely to our college and its splendid corps of instructors. Many outsiders are attracted here by this institution but when investigation is made of the condition of our public schools it is found there is no provision for an education up to the standard required by the state as well as colleges for first grade schools. To maintain our reputation as an educational center it is necessary to raise our standard of public instruction and to do this it will be necessary to endorse the bond issue. Other towns have taken advanced steps and there is no reason why this community should lag behind. Civic pride alone should be sufficient reason for supporting the bond issue.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By E. O. GILLERS, Acting Director of Sunday School Course, Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

LESSON FOR APRIL 11

DAVID ANOINTED KING.

LESSON TEXT—(Samuel 16:1-13). GOLDEN TEXT—Man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord looketh on the heart.—1 Samuel 16:7, 11, 14.

After the events recorded in last Sunday's lesson Samuel retired to Ramah never again to see Saul's face. Samuel "mourned" (15:35) i. e., he wept and lamented the deposed king. It was noble for Samuel, thus to be grieved over Saul's sin; still, God had work for him to do. There is a sorrow that "worketh repentance" which is pleasing in the sight of God, but that idle sorrow which spends itself in unprofitable mourning is detrimental to man and a hindrance to the kingdom of God (ch. 8:7; 15:1). Men may fall but the kingdom goes forward. We do not interpret verse 2 as suggesting any subterfuge on God's part but rather that God refused to pay any attention to Samuel's fear. God answers fear by giving us duties to perform and in their performance we are delivered from our fears.

1. David Chosen to Be King, vv. 4-10. Saul, the clamorous choice of the people, was not succeeded by David—"the man after God's own heart"—for several years after this lesson. God's will in this matter was shown to Samuel progressively: (a) in chapter 13:14 Samuel is informed that God hath sought "a man after his own heart;" (b) in 16:1 he is told to go and find the king whom God had provided; (c) in verse 12 Samuel has selected. This selection is in accordance with the prophecy made centuries before regarding the kingly scepter (Gen. 49:10). Of course it was high treason, this act Samuel was about to perform, and Saul yet had many friends and supporters (v. 2). God seems to have permitted Samuel to use one avowed purpose to conceal the real one, but "such a course is one to use but sparingly" (MacLaren). God can and does protect those whom he sends (Ps. 34:7) and "man is immortal till his work is done." Just what or how did not concern Samuel for he had God's promise (v. 3). A step at a time was sufficient and in taking each step Samuel was to tell the exact truth.

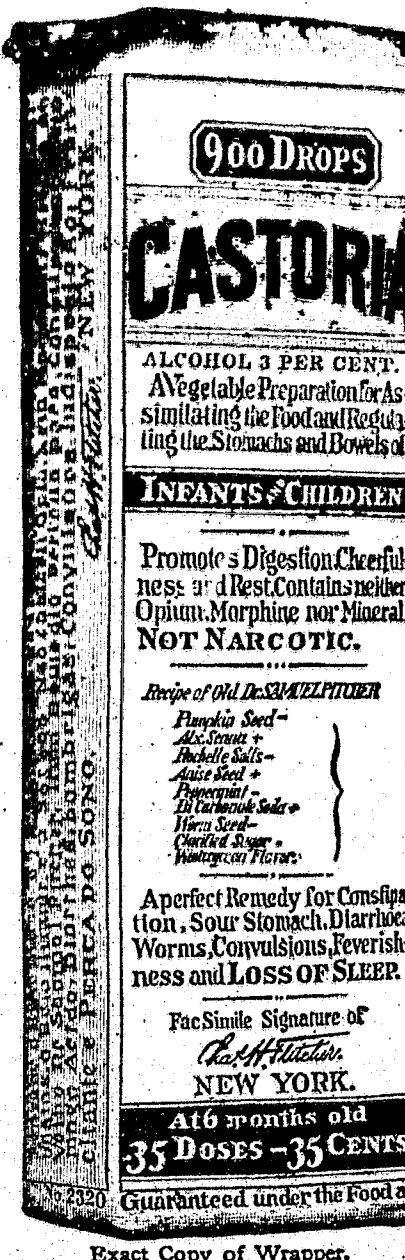

Thus God guides and tests his servants. Samuel was a judge as well as a prophet (ch. 7:10) and the people of Bethlehem were agitated at his arrival. It may be too, that these elders were fearful of incurring the displeasure of Saul. There was no occasion for fear, as Samuel's purpose was to sacrifice and his mission one of peace even as the angelic messengers who quieted the shepherds with their message of "peace" when "great David's greater son" was ushered into the world. Jesse was a grandson of Ruth the Moabitess and also a descendant of Rahab the harlot. On his father's side he belonged to the "strong tribe of Judah. He was evidently a man of some wealth, certainly in his children. After the sacrifice and before the feast Samuel is made acquainted with the sons of Jesse. The first, Eliab, was tall and good to look upon and at once Samuel fixed upon him as the certain choice for Jehovah.

11. David Anointed King, vv. 11-13. Seven sons are set aside and yet Samuel did not hear the voice of God's approval. In seeming dismay he asks, "Are here all thy children?" Jesse seems to have made a careless and reluctant reply that the youngest was away from home tending sheep. Thereupon Samuel asserts that "we will not sit down (to the sacrificial feast) till he be brought hither." It is from such lowly positions that God is constantly promoting men to positions of responsibility and prominence. Witness Carey, Livingston, Moody and a hundred others past and present. David at this time was about fifteen years old (Hezekiah). His name means "darling," significant of the affection of his mother, whose name is unknown, but to whom David twice makes reference (Ps. 86:16; 116:16). David was short, compared with his brothers, but had bright eyes (v. 12) and a face—a "comely person" (v. 18). David was agile and strong and though seemingly scoffed at by his brothers and neglected by his father it did not pervert his good nature nor turn him from the performance of his duties. Samuel did not greet David as he had greeted Saul, he may have been disappointed. This gives emphasis to the words in verse 12, "Arise anoint him; for this is he."

David is anointed, set apart, for the kingship, but is not equipped nor does he enter upon his offices till later. In this he is a type of Jesus who shall yet reign on David's throne. Verses 13 and 14 tell of the developing contrast in the lives of Saul and David. David the young king, potential only at this time, is a great inspiration to the young of all ages in that, (1) He did his lowly work thoroughly; (2) While doing it he sought to cultivate and improve himself (v. 18); and (3) He gave himself wholly to God; hence the record "and the Lord is with him" (v. 18).

Enjoying Life.
He alone appears to me to live and to enjoy life who, being engaged in some business, seeks reputation by some illustrious action for some useful art.—Saltus.
